

Andrew D. Leone, P.E.

Senior Project Engineer

Mr. Leone has over 10 years of professional experience in structural engineering. His experience includes design and analysis of various structures ranging from single family homes to 2000 foot television towers. Mr. Leone has worked with firms in the communication, residential, commercial, educational, pharmaceutical, and research industries. He has been involved with projects from the conceptual stage to construction administration including detailed inspection work. His experience has included analysis and design for retrofit and new projects, architectural coordination, computer modeling, development of engineering tools, scheduling, specifications, document production, Basis of Design (BOD), reports, production ACAD, and staff supervision.

Education

- B.S., Civil Engineering
University of Pittsburgh

Professional Associations

- American Institute of Steel Construction
- American Institute of Architects

Professional Registrations

Florida, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania

Experience

Mr. Leone has successfully completed projects for the following clients:

Emergent BioSolutions	Barton Partners
Paramount Homes	Toll Brothers
Mike Rosen Architects	Ryan Homes
Lennar	Luce & Associates
Khovnanian	Kamlesh Shah Architects
Maplewood Homes	Pulte Homes
Bristol Myers Squib	Drexel University
Sinclair Broadcast Group	Wyeth
Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory	Ginsburg Development
	Greater Media